RICKEY CHARGES ENEMY'S WORK

SAN FRANCISCO, July 23.—T. E. Rickey, president of the defunct State Bank and Trust company of Nevada, against whom Receiver Wildes filed a report in Carson recently, charging the cattle king with defrauding the depositors of hundreds of thousands of dollars, arrived in this city yesterday on private business and registered at the St. Francis.

"The charges are all false," Rickey said last night. "They emanate from Judge Mack of Reno, who is the attorney for Wildes and my arch enemy. Mack has opposed me in everything I have undertaken."

"The bank was a big paying venture from the start. Dividends were paid every six months out of real earnings. There was no attempt made to make losses appear as profits for my own aggrandizement. When the bank failed it owed me money, for all the companies in which I am interested were heavy depositors. Contrary to the charge made that I obtained a large block of stock in the Keane Mining company in consideration of a loan made out of the funds of the bank, I did not take hold of the Keane property until after the bank closed, and it was a transaction entirely personal, with no bearing on the holdings of the bank."

"Properly handled, the bank ought to pay dollar for dollar. The assets are unquestionably good."

TWAIN ON PROHIBITION.

"Crossing the Atlantic with Mark Twain last summer," said a W. C. T. U. woman, "I asked his opinion of the prohibition law. His reply was very characteristic, very humorous:

"I am a friend of temperance and want it to succeed," he said, "but I don't think prohibition is practical. The Germans, you see, prevent it. Look at them. I am sorry to learn that they have just invented a method of making brandy out of sawdust. Now, what chance will prohibition have when a man can take a rip saw and go out and get drunk with a fence rail? What is the good of prohibition if a man is able to make brandy smashes of the shingles on his roof, or if he can get delirium tremens by drinking the legs of the kitchen chairs?"

BELIEVES SON INSANE.

NEW YORK, July 23.—After spending a night in the Tombs, John A. Van Rensselaer, son of Mrs. John King Van Rensselaer, was taken before Magistrate Corrigan on the charge of threatening to do his mother bodily harm unless she gave him $5000. A. Russell Peabody, who represented Van Rensselaer at the hearing, said he did not believe there would be a question of bail, but one of medical observation. Van Rensselaer was committed to the psychiatric ward at Bellevue hospital for observation.

LEAVES HOME FOR HEALTH.

ROME, July 23.—After twenty years residence in Rome without ever having left the confines of that city in that time, Cardinal Rampolla, former papal secretary of state, started this evening for Einsiedel, Switzerland. Owing to his ill health Cardinal Rampolla's physicians ordered him to leave Rome at once.

WOMAN SUES TO CANCEL NOTES

SAN FRANCISCO, July 23.—Alleging that C. H. Seely sold Ida E. Miller 66,666 shares of stock in the Nevada Florence Mining company by falsely representing the terms of the lease and by falsely stating that the mine would produce millions of dollars' worth of gold during her lifetime, Mrs. Miller and Frances Chatten yesterday brought suit against Seely and the company to cancel the notes for $20,000, given in payment for the shares. The notes were endorsed by Frances Chatten. It is alleged in the complaint that Seely represented the stock he was selling was treasury stock, and that the proceeds would be used only to develop the mine. The plaintiffs say they have now ascertained that Seely sold his own stock. To induce Ida Miller to buy he is accused of having entered into an arrangement with one Landis under which Landis took an option over the shares from her at $100,000. This option he never exercised. The plaintiffs say work has ceased on the mine, which is now subject to forfeiture.

$30,000,000 THE INCREASED COST

SAN FRANCISCO, July 21.—That the Western Pacific may be in standard condition for its entire length from Salt Lake City to San Francisco when its last spike is driven is the ambition of the interests behind the enterprise and the reason for the increase of the cost of the line from $50,000,000 to $80,000,000. The financiers promoting the road, headed by George Gould, have decided upon plans to secure the additional $30,000,000.

The first estimated cost of the Western Pacific was $50,000,000. Bonds for that amount were issued, being underwritten by the Bowllag Green Trust company of New York. They were readily floated, but before the road was well under way the Gould interests decided to improve the construction, keeping the grades close to 1 per cent, which means excessive tunneling, reducing the curves and in other ways perfecting the construction. Under the new estimate the cost of the road, with equipment, will be $80,000,000.

IRON TRADE IS OPTIMISTIC

CLEVELAND, July 21.—The Iron Trade Review tomorrow will say: The improvement in finished lines, notably bars, merchant shapes and wire products, continues to be well sustained. Implement makers are specifying freely and the tonnage that is being received from the railroads, particularly in the west, where preparations are being made to move the crops, is larger than it has been at any time this year. There is clearly evident throughout the iron and steel industry an optimism which is now really being felt.

The completion of Ohio irons has resulted in lower prices on local grades in the Chicago districts, while eastern Pennsylvania operators are asking higher prices for fourth quarter delivery, despite the limited demand. Slight concessions are also reported on steel making grades for spot shipment in the valleys. The market in all centers is stagnant, the demands for foundry grades being limited to immediate requirements. Pittsburgh reports the sale of 8000 tons of basic, and 1500 tons of No. 2 foundry has been taken by a Cleveland cast iron pipe interest.

By the terms of the bar iron wage settlement, the peddlers and finishers agree to accept reductions varying from 8 to 10 per cent. These terms, however, have not been approved by the Republic Iron and Steel company, whose iron mills continue idle. A second conference will be held with the Amalgamated Association this week.

WIDOW SUES MURDERER.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 23.—A suit to recover $20,000 damages for the killing of her husband, Frank L. Mackay, a commission broker, was instituted in the circuit court yesterday by Mrs. Mackay against James M. Chandler, now under indictment for the murder. Both the Chandlers and Mackays stood high in the financial circles here. The murder occurred in Mackay's office about two weeks ago, the outgrowth of a business transaction.

ALL QUIET IN HONOLULU.

(By Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, July 23.—A dispatch from the commander of the gunboat Marietta at Cebu, Honduras, reports all quiet here. The government is in control of affairs, and no further attacks by revolutionists are expected.
